CHANNEL LAKE CONSIDERS PLANS TO INCORPORATE

Growing Community Feels Need for Adequate Facilities

Channel Lake is to become an incorporated village if plans to that end come to realization. It was stated by prominent lake residents here this week. The project, long contemplated because of need for adequate and more modern facilities for the rapidly growing area, took added impetus this week when many prominent citizens voiced approval, according to Elmer Sorenson, Channel Lake hotel keeper and prominent Democratic leader, who declares residents of the lake area feel the need of better sanitation, lighting and police protection.

The incorporation of the district into a village would solve these problems to the best advantage and at least expense, residents declare.

Under present conditions, police, fire and watchman service is procured only by means of contributions of citizens. With the growth of the community the need for these necessities in a better organized form becomes more apparent each year. Under organization such as incorporation will afford, sufficient tax funds would be available to defray all expenses of the various departments of village government, citizens declare.

The incorporation as planned would include all lands from Antioch limits west to Fox river, north to the state line, and south to include Lake Maria.

3,500 Population

The district embraces over eight square miles and has a population of about 3,500, which is greatly augmented during the vacation season with the advent of summer residents, many of whom are property owners in the area.

Those prominently connected with the movement, besides Sorenson, are Charles Fry, Channel Lake school director, John Deschert, president of the Deschert Soap Co., and Charles Rudolph, dairyman. Charles Smith, pioneer resident of Channel Lake and one of the oldest residents of the district, has been suggested as a possible candidate for first mayor of Channel Lake.

A petition for a special election will be circulated soon, proponents of the plan stated.

MOTHERS' CLUB TO HOLD BANQUET FOR DAUGHTERS

The annual Mothers and Daughters Banquet sponsored by the Antioch Mothers' Club will be held next Tuesday evening, May 15, at St. Peter's Church. The banquet, which will begin at 6:30, will be served by the ladies of St. Peter's Church.

Mrs. E. M. Amstutz of Waukegan has been secured to speak. She will be accompanied by an assistant who will entertain with several numbers. Other numbers on the program include a piano solo by Marjorie Bright; a toast to the mothers by Carolyn Phillips; mother's response by Mrs. Harry Messinger; a reading by Mrs. George Phillips; and music by a selected high school girls' Glee Club.

Home Bureau Units Meet at Grayslake

Forty women from various units of the Lake County Home Bureau met at Farmers' Hall at Grayslake May 4 to attend a leaders' training school conducted by Mrs. Katharine Van Aken Burns, State leader of Home Economics Extension, University of Illinois. Miss Mary Louise Chase, assistant state leader, and Miss Florence Kimmelschue, County Adviser.

All were guests at a noon-day luncheon provided by the executive board of the Lake County Home Bureau. The afternoon was spent in instruction.

Visitors Attend G. S. Open House

Comment on the Improved Teaching Methods and Equipment

About fifty mothers took advantage of the invitation extended them to attend Open House at the grade school Tuesday and yesterday and visit the classes while in progress, thus representing about half of the families sending children to the Antioch Grade School.

Reports from the visitors indicated their approval of this means of allowing them to witness classes as they actually are conducted and observe present-day teaching methods. They expressed satisfaction at the methods employed in conducting most of the classes. Many of them commented on the improvement over their own school days, the greater advantages, equipment, pleasant surroundings and helpful understanding on the part of the teachers.

The school work is made more interesting by the addition of projects relative to the subject which render the classes more profitable and practical.

LUMBER COMPANY ANNOUNCES TWO-DAY PAINT DEMONSTRATION

Free Samples and Expert Advice Will Be Offered by Paint Specialist

A special two-day demonstration conducted by a skilled paint specialist from the du Pont Company is announced by the Antioch Lumber & Coal Co., 315 Depot Street. The demonstration, for which extensive preparations have been made, will introduce to this community some of the latest and most successful paint developments. It will also give customers the opportunity to obtain advice on color schemes for their homes and to discuss their particular paint problems with the specialist in charge of the demonstration. One of the features of the demonstration will be the giving of free samples to all attending.

Announcement of the demonstration has been made by the delivery of hundreds of attractive color cards to home owners in this community. These announcements, delivered by unformed messengers, also tell of the free offer of a sample can of Duco to every adult attending the demonstration.

The demonstration has been planned as the opening feature of a campaign to introduce the du Pont line of paints and varnishes in this community. This store has just been appointed as agent here for the well known firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, whose success during the past several years in developing new finishes for the home and for industrial use has been phenomenal. The full line of du Pont finishes will be shown, including Prepared House Paint, Duco, washable interior gloss, floor and deck enamels, flat wall paint and other well known paint materials.

The demonstration will take place on Friday and Saturday, May 11th and 12th, and because of its unusual features is expected to attract a widespread attention.

New Electric Rates Are Lower

The new rates for residential electricity supplied by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, ordered by the Illinois Commerce Commission, effective June 1, 1934, are as follows:

6.8¢ per kilowatt hour for the first 7 kilowatt hours used per room in any month.

5¢ per kilowatt hour for the next 6 kilowatt hours used per room in the month.

3¢ per kilowatt hour for the next 5 kilowatt hours used per room in the month.

2¢ per kilowatt hour for all electricity used in the month in excess of 17 kilowatt hours per room.

With the low 2 cent step of the new rate, customers can use nearly one-third more electricity without additional cost.

DEMAND FOR SHORT TERM PRODUCTION CREDIT IS HEAVY

Since the first of the year Woodstock Production Credit Association has received 75 applications for $76,251.50 in short term production loans, according to R. T. Burroughs, secretary-treasurer of the association.

This association was established under provisions of an act of Congress to serve as a connecting link between the farmer and private investors through the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Louis which discounts farmers' notes taken by the local association.

The association makes loans to farmers of McHenry and Lake counties to provide funds for general agricultural production purposes including crop production, the breeding, raising, and fattening of livestock, and the production of livestock products.

"Loans made by the association bear an interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent. The term is from 3 to 12 months depending upon the marketing period of the crop or livestock financed," Mr. Burroughs stated.

The Woodstock Production Credit Association is an organization of farmer borrowers of this locality. Eligible farmers and stockmen who offer acceptable security may obtain loans by becoming members of the association through the purchase of voting stock in the association equal to 5 per cent of the amount of their loans. The stock may be purchased with a part of the loan proceeds.

"Farmers who borrow from production credit associations are not only getting low cost loans, but by purchasing voting stock they are investing in a permanent, self-governed agricultural financing institution," Mr. Burroughs said. "The production credit system is the only method ever devised whereby a farmer's local credit cooperative, organized with Government support and initial capital, may eventually be owned and controlled by the farmers who borrow from it."

Farmers who are interested in obtaining a loan through the Woodstock Production Credit Association should see R. T. Burroughs. Applications may also be filed with Mr. Harry Glickerson, and Bertram Abney of Lake county and Lester Sledsiching and Fred Gay of McHenry county, who are serving the respective territory in which they reside and who are correspondents of the Woodstock Production Credit Association.

Mrs. Collins M. Williams Passes Away

Word was received today of the death of Mrs. Collins M. Williams at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Blood, Wilmet, yesterday, May 9. She was eighty years old and had been seriously ill since last December when she suffered a breakdown.

Mary Melissa Southwick was born in East Delavan March 9, 1854, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Southwick. She was one of fourteen children, of whom but one, William H. Southwick of Williams Bay now survives.

She was united in marriage to Collins M. Williams April 23, 1880. Most of her married life was spent at Williams Bay, where she was an active worker in the Congregational Church. She has made her home with her daughter at Wilmet for the past winter.

Funeral services will be held at the Roy Blood home in Wilmet Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, followed by church services in the Congregational church at Williams Bay at 2:30. Interment will be in the East Delavan cemetery.

She is survived by her husband; her daughter, Fanny M. (Mrs. Roy Blood), her son, Carlos Williams of Hammond, Ind.; her brother, William; and ten grandchildren.

S. B. Nelson and son, Harry, Miss Dorothy Hughes and Miss Isabelle Harwood spent the week-end in Antioch and Canton, Ill. Wendell Nelson, who underwent a tonsil operation, returned to Antioch, and Harold Nelson returned to his studies at Illinois Wesleyan University.

Children Set Fires; Firemen Are Called

Blaze from Rabbit Hutch Threatens Barn at the Dewdrop Inn

Two fires, both of which were started by irresponsible children, assumed sufficient proportions over the week-end to warrant calling the fire department.

The first fire occurred about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Dewdrop Inn, north of the State Line, when Rudy de Groot's little son set fire to a rabbit hutch.

The fire spread to some scattered straw and threatened the barn. When the department arrived, the fire had been practically extinguished by members of the family who threw buckets of water on the flames.

Called to Sorenson's
The department was called the second time about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after some neighbor's children had set fire to some leaves along the base of Elmer Sorenson's house at Channel Lake.

The leaves had been packed around the house during the winter for warmth, and the children were preparing to clear them away. Tiring of their task, they set fire to the leaves. The fire department made the run in 2 1/2 minutes, but by the time it arrived, the leaves had been hurriedly raked away from the house and the greatest danger was past.

Simple methods of preparing famous desserts, including America's most popular one, pie, will be demonstrated for local homemakers when "Pie Takes A Holiday," a picture story demonstration just completed in New York by nationally known experts, is presented here Tuesday, May 15.

The demonstration, which is fostered by Leonard Refrigerator Company, will be presented under the auspices of Williams Bros., local representative of this electric refrigerator company, at Williams Bros. Store, unless otherwise arranged. It will be free to all local women and will be held one at 2:30 p. m., and again at 4 p. m. It was announced.

All the "tricks" and shortcuts of successful dessert making will be revealed by these experts in the demonstration, Mr. Williams said, and copies of the recipes will be distributed to the women who attend, along with a number of other gifts. The picture story demonstration, he explained, now is being taken on a tour of the United States, and for that reason can be presented locally on one day only. Large audiences have viewed the demonstration wherever it has been held, he said.

"Not unlike a modern movie, 'Pie Takes A Holiday' is done in story form," Mr. Williams related. "This great American dessert, pie, is placed on a train for a holiday at the beginning of the demonstration and then the nimble fingers of the experts proceed to prepare any number of desserts to substitute for pie. Near the conclusion of the presentation, pie returns from the holiday and then these experts show a number of modern versions of this old favorite, and demonstrate ways and means to get best results in pie baking."

COMPLAIN MAIL BOXES MOLESTED

Rural patrons on Antioch route 1 have made complaint that mail boxes in the vicinity of Grass Lake have been knocked down recently. This has occurred with such frequency that several boxholders on the route are known to be on the watch at night in an effort to apprehend the guilty parties.

Mail boxes are purchased and erected by the patrons, according to postal regulations, after which they are in custody of the U. S. Postal Department, according to Postmaster James Horn. Anyone molesting any such property is liable to prosecution by the federal government.

FIREMEN PREPARE FOR CONVENTION

Plan Stunts, Contests and Test Runs for Meet at Libertyville

Two practices were held this week by the members of the Antioch Fire Department in preparation for their stunt to be presented at the Lake County Firemen's Convention at Libertyville May 28.

The events of the day will start at twelve noon with a mile run into Libertyville from three directions by departments of the five zones. These will be followed by a parade at one o'clock and a presentation of the stunts from 1:30 until after two.

The Lyons Club of Libertyville is offering a prize to the department receiving the highest number of points. Scoring will be based upon the condition of the equipment, the adequacy of all apparatus, the cleanliness of equipment and the results of stunts and contests.

A beauty contest, also sponsored by the Lyons Club, in which girls from Libertyville and Mundelein may participate will be held this month, with the queen to be selected on that day.

Water barrel fights and a tug-of-war are planned for the day. Complete plans for the evening's entertainment have not yet been arranged, according to James Stearns, Antioch Fire Chief.

Stearns said he hoped that Antioch residents cooperate with the department by appearing at Libertyville May 28 to support the home firemen.

Antioch Couple Celebrate Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Burnette Have Lived on Lake St. for 43 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas S. Burnette, Lake street, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home Sunday, May 6, surrounded by their children and other close relatives. The couple received beautiful flowers and other gifts and tokens in remembrance of the day.

Miss Lily Richardson and Nicholas Burnette were united in marriage by Captain John Pollock at Millburn in the pastor's home May 6, 1874. The bride was then a young girl of 17 and her husband a youth of 21 years.

During the second year of their marriage they made their home in New York, returning to Antioch at the end of the year to live. Another interval of their life spent away from Antioch was in 1888 when they conducted a boarding house in Hamilton, Wisconsin.

Before moving to their present home on Lake street 43 years ago, they lived near Pikeville on a farm for three years. For the past 25 years, Mr. Burnette has been occupied in making cement blocks at his plant near the Soo station. Although now 81 years of age, he still continues this work in partnership with Hugo Gustafson.

Recall Old Days

There were scarcely more than half a dozen or so houses on Lake street in the early years of their residence there, Mrs. Burnette said yesterday. Of these, only three other houses then existed, stand today; they are the Bregan, Cribb, and Osmond houses. Mrs. Burnette and her husband had feet that they have "grown up with the town."

Although neither are in the best of health, they are both comparatively active, and Mrs. Burnette continues to do her own housework. As her vision is somewhat impaired, she is unable to read or enjoy other diversions possible to those with ordinary sight.

Among those who were present at the home Sunday were their two sons, Tom and Lee Burnette, Antioch; one daughter, Mrs. Richard Slyater, and family; Mrs. Burnette's sister, Mrs. Belle Shugart, Rockford; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shugart and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shugart and two sons, Rockford. The other daughter, Mrs. Ada Stillborn, Chicago Heights, was unable to be present.

ELECTRIC RATE WAR ENDS AS PUBLIC SERVICE ACCEPTS CUT

Claims Are Not Justified by Facts, Officials Declare

COMPANY ADOPTS COMMISSION'S RATE

In connection with the recent announcement by the Illinois Commerce Commission of a reduction in electric rates amounting to $1,056,000 for residential customers of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, James Simpson and George A. Fannoy, chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the company have issued the following statement in behalf of the company:

"We consider the terms of the temporary order issued by the Illinois Commerce Commission in its electric rate case against this Company most severe and not justified by the facts presented to the Commission by the Company and embodied in the record that covers some fifty-eight hundred pages of testimony and hundreds of pages of exhibits."

Property values as set forth by the Commission are too low, according to the statement, and the Commission also has excluded some operating expense items, while rentals have been included as operating income.

More than five months was consumed in taking testimony and hearings, and the expense of the proceedings were borne by the Company. Injunction proceedings would mean interminable delay and would prove costly.

"Notwithstanding the inequities of the Commission's findings, the Company, deeming it wise to avoid further lengthy and expensive hearings and court proceedings, has decided to adopt the rate reductions imposed by the Commission, believing that, in view of its public statement, the Commission will see fit to make the temporary order a final order. In doing this, however, the Company by express reservation does not accept the principles upon which the order is based."

"The Company's staff will thus be relieved from devoting their time and energy to defending our rate structure before the Commission and Federal Court, and will be enabled to address themselves not only to a continuation of the high degree of service rendered to its customers and commented on favorably in the Commission's order, but to the development and expansion of the consumption of electrical energy and gas in the growing territory served by the Company."

"Most of the recent improvement in the Company's gross revenues has not been translated into net income, due to corresponding increases in taxes and uncontrollable operating expenses, although all prudent economies have been and will continue to be exercised."

"New business in a rapidly growing territory, however, requires large amounts of new capital. A study of the Company's present capital structure indicates that this new capital, when required, must be raised by the sale of stock rather than bonds. This will not be possible unless the Company is permitted to earn sufficient amount to provide not only for dividends but for a reasonable surplus after their payment."

Men's Club to Stage Ball Game

A baseball game between the West Side merchants and the East Side merchants will be held at the grade school next Thursday evening, May 17, at 6 o'clock, according to Rev. L. V. Sitter, who said that the ball game would be held instead of the usual monthly dinner and speech.

Antioch merchants have promised to appear in their best baseball regalia. Sitter said, and considerable interest has been aroused among the merchants as each recalls his prowess on the field in past seasons.

THE PRICE OF PROGRESS

Claudian E. Wade

As we look back over the ages we observe that every nation has had some dominant thing or ideal to offer its people. It may have been art, religion, war, athletics, or many things, but whatever it was, it occupied the interest of all, and motivated them to such super efforts and accomplishments that the nation went down in history representative of that particular thing.

Since the inception of the United States, there have been ideas and conceptions of what the ideals of a nation should be. Some of them were very good, and some were very bad. Without a doubt, the outstanding declaration of all time concerning human rights and privileges, is the Constitution of the United States. Strange it is, that we are not recognized throughout the world because of this democratic masterpiece.

Industry is the watchword which characterizes our nation. Never in history has any nation ever achieved in a way comparable to our industrial progress during the last seventy-five years. It has, in a way, become our religion; material progress at any cost has, and is, dominating our country. All countries throughout history have broken at their peak.

I hope that I am not assuming an indefensible view when I venture the prediction that our industrial progress cannot continue the next fifty years as it has the past fifty. We have so concentrated on industry that we have neglected the business of living. Our garden of life has grown up to weeds. Our industrial progress cannot be purchased at such a price that it will bankrupt the moral back-bone of our nation.

The next years must witness a substantial progress in the business of life, or we will find ourselves in a deteriorated morass.

MOTHER'S DAY

"All that I am or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."—Abraham Lincoln.

Many of our greatest statesmen, authors, inventors, poets and soldiers have expressed similar views. From the first breath of life it is the mother whose tender care guards and cherishes the small bundle of helpless humanity. It is Mother who kisses the hurts and removes the sting from even a merited correction, and prepares the little one for contact with the outer world. With this physical, material dependence upon the mother, is it any wonder that the child also absorbs the mother's ideals, morals, aims and ambitions? Thrice blessed is the child who has the companionship of a truly good mother.

The second Sunday in May has been dedicated to Mother, and on that day we bring her gifts or flowers, and perhaps attend a church service to hear a eulogy of the famous and more humble mothers of the world. All very pretty and touching but—how about the other 364 days? Do we remember her patience, her thousands of sacrifices, her never remitting care? Do we help her with her work—lighten her burdens—write that letter or tell her how much we care for her and appreciate her efforts to give us the very best of the things that matter?

This year we wear a pink carnation and everybody's happy—next year? Well why not do those nice things for Mother now, and not have to regret the omission later.

TAXES ARE ALWAYS PASSED ON

"I wish to heaven that we could once realize that every tax laid is a burden upon industry, upon agriculture, and upon commerce. I would that we could get out of our minds that we can lay a tax on a big bank, or a big corporation, or a rich man and run the government. The taxes are passed on, and always will be. If I understand the laws of the United States aright, they are intended to be passed on. They are described in the Constitution as imposts and excises, and imposts and excises are, in contemplation of law, always to be passed on."

That isn't a declaration of a "Big Business Man." It is found in the Congressional Record—and was said by Senator Bailey, Democrat, of North Carolina.

It would be a fine thing if every worker, every property-owner, every investor, would read and ponder that. It is sound economic truth. No business, no industry, can pay a tax itself. It must get the money from its customers, or it must take it out of the pay of its employees, or out of dividends to stockholders—who, in most cases, are just average citizens, with a few hundred or thousand dollars of hard earned savings in investments which they rely upon.

Excessive taxes confiscate property. They confiscate jobs and savings. They close factories, and foreclose homes and farms. They stand in the way of industrial expansion, and the investment of the capital that would provide more employment, more opportunities, more purchasing power. They are a barrier to recovery.

Efficient, economical government is essential to regaining and maintaining normal times.

SO THIS IS THE LAW!

For weeks the law has been defied by John Dillinger, murderer, who escaped from a so-called jail with a wooden gun and since then has been roaming the country. The police of at least four states—Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota—have been made to look silly by this one bandit.

In New York—on the same day that Dillinger eluded police in Wisconsin—a child with a toy hoe scraped up some mud in Central Park, and for this heinous offense the mother and child were forced to spend an entire day in court and in jail. The sun was shining outdoors, but the majesty of the law must be upheld, and so the 2-year-old child was soundly spanked to keep him quiet in the courtroom. Justice—if that's what it is called—must not be outraged!

Here is a perfect illustration of why the police and the courts in the United States are held in low public esteem. Politicians, police and judiciary play games of dropping-the-handkerchief with bandits, thugs, racketeers and plug-uglies. Then they turn around and persecute women and children who cannot defend themselves. Let it never be said that they quail before a woman or child! They have their duty to perform! If they cannot protect citizens, at least they can harry and annoy them.—Christian Science Monitor.

Food Market Advice

By ANN PAGE

THIS is almost certainly the busiest week in the whole year for the housewife. Three meals a day—breakfast, lunch, and dinner—plus the Christmas dinner and perhaps a party or two all every minute.

Ample, wholesome meals may be quickly prepared and are a good means of getting ready to enjoy the holiday feast. The attractive prices at which various steak cuts are being offered give beef an extra appeal and they cook quickly. A thick broiled porterhouse or sirloin is a totally different accompaniment from pan-broiled round steak or braised chuck steak. When the week-end arrives a meat will be wanted for Sunday. Baked smoked ham is in a class by itself and it has the additional advantage of being delicious cold or when combined into entrees and other dishes. Portions of cold sliced ham and cold formal entertaining. Roast beef, roast lamb or roast fresh ham are equally good Sunday dinner suggestions.

Since there are three fast days this week it will be easy to fill in the week's menus with some of the many appealing fish and seafood dishes which this week's market makes possible. Why not serve oysters at least once? Some people like an oyster stew, some creamed oysters in short cake or patty shells, and some plain broiled oysters. Fish filets are versatile and are equally at home pan-fried, fried in cream, in cheese sauce or pan-fried sauce with Hollandaise. If you are a fish lover, fish were available there would be need to tire of this one.

To help Santa Claus fill Christmas stockings there are shiny red apples, juicy oranges, yellow bananas and loose, skinned tangerines. These fruits together with grapefruit, Emperor grapes and nuts and possibly a spray topped pineapple will also make a gay fruit centerpiece for the table.

When you are serving fluffy white mashed potatoes a colorful second vegetable helps to make your dinner service more appealing. The outstanding green vegetables available are asparagus, broccoli, green beans and peas and Brussels sprouts. Carrots, rutabaga turnips and winter squash come in shades of yellow and orange and beets offer a warm crimson. When you are serving sweet potatoes you can serve white vegetables such as cabbage, celery, onions and cauliflower. The whiteness of vegetables can be gotten around with the help of paprika, chopped parsley, or any of the colored sauces or by sautéing and browning in the oven.

At present tomatoes are relatively scarce and expensive. Lettuce is cheap so that you can serve your family hearts of lettuce with a dressing which combines chili sauce or ketchup with salad dressing and chopped olives for a pleasant change. Celery is fine in quality and plentiful. The relish dish of celery and olives deserves a more frequent place on your dinner table than Sundays and holidays but is never omitted on Christmas if one can judge by market demands.

Much more is not important from the standpoint of nourishment but they add greatly to the flavor and attractiveness of many dishes. Sautéed whole or sliced they go perfectly with pork if you do not insist on onions instead.

Have you noticed Thompson's house since they had it all painted up, Bert? It looks like a mansion.

Yes I saw it, Sue, and I was afraid you'd bring up the subject.

Well—let's go and see how much it is required to paint our house—do estimate costs nothing.

AFRAID?—I don't understand—Why should you be afraid that I saw it, Dear?

Oh I'm conscious of the shabbiness of our place, Sue, but I don't think this is the time for us to spend a lot of money.

THE PRICE OF PROGRESS

Clausius E. Wade

As we look back over the ages we observe that every nation has had some dominant thing or ideal to offer its people. It may have been art, religion, war, athletics, or many things, but whatever it was, it occupied the interest of all, and motivated them to such super efforts and accomplishments that the nation went down in history representative of that particular thing.

Since the inception of the United States, there have been ideas and conceptions of what the ideals of a nation should be. Some of them were very good, and some were very bad. Without a doubt, the outstanding declaration of all time concerning human rights and privileges, is the Constitution of the United States. Strange it is, that we are not recognized throughout the world because of this democratic masterpiece.

Industry is the watchword which characterizes our nation. Never in history has any nation ever achieved in a way comparable to our industrial progress during the last seventy-five years. It has, in a way, become our religion; material progress at any cost has, and is, dominating our country. All countries throughout history have broken at their peak.

I hope that I am not assuming an indefensible view when I venture the prediction that our industrial progress cannot continue the next fifty years as it has the past fifty. We have so concentrated on industry that we have neglected the business of living. Our garden of life has grown up to weeds. Our industrial progress cannot be purchased at such a price that it will bankrupt the moral back-bone of our nation.

The next years must witness a substantial progress in the business of life, or we will find ourselves in a deteriorated morass.

MOTHER'S DAY

"All that I am or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."—Abraham Lincoln.

Many of our greatest statesmen, authors, inventors, poets and soldiers have expressed similar views. From the first breath of life it is the mother whose tender care guards and cherishes the small bundle of helpless humanity. It is Mother who kisses the hurts and removes the sting from even a merited correction, and prepares the little one for contact with the outer world. With this physical, material dependence upon the mother, is it any wonder that the child also absorbs the mother's ideals, morals, aims and ambitions? Thrice blessed is the child who has the companionship of a truly good mother.

The second Sunday in May has been dedicated to Mother, and on that day we bring her gifts or flowers, and perhaps attend a church service to hear a eulogy of the famous and more humble mothers of the world. All very pretty and touching but—how about the other 364 days? Do we remember her patience, her thousands of sacrifices, her never remitting care? Do we help her with her work—lighten her burdens—write that letter or tell her how much we care for her and appreciate her efforts to give us the very best of the things that matter? This year we wear a pink carnation and everybody's happy—next year? Well why not do those nice things for Mother now, and not have to regret the omission later.

TAXES ARE ALWAYS PASSED ON

"I wish to heaven that we could once realize that every tax laid is a burden upon industry, upon agriculture, and upon commerce. I would that we could get out of our minds that we can lay a tax on a big bank, or a big corporation, or a rich man and run the government. The taxes are passed on, and always will be. If I understand the laws of the United States aright, they are intended to be passed on. They are described in the Constitution as imposts and excises, and imposts and excises are, in contemplation of law, always to be passed on."

That isn't a declaration of a "Big Business Man." It is found in the Congressional Record—and was said by Senator Bailey, Democrat, of North Carolina.

It would be a fine thing if every worker, every property-owner, every investor, would read and ponder that. It is sound economic truth. No business, no industry, can pay a tax itself. It must get the money from its customers, or it must take it out of the pay of its employees, or out of dividends to stockholders—who, in most cases, are just average citizens, with a few hundred or thousand dollars of hard earned savings in investments which they rely upon.

Excessive taxes confiscate property. They confiscate jobs and savings. They close factories, and foreclose homes and farms. They stand in the way of industrial expansion, and the investment of the capital that would provide more employment, more opportunities, more purchasing power. They are a barrier to recovery.

Efficient, economical government is essential to regaining and maintaining normal times.

SO THIS IS THE LAW!

For weeks the law has been defied by John Dillinger, murderer, who escaped from a so-called jail with a wooden gun and since then has been roaming the country. The police of at least four states—Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota—have been made to look silly by this one bandit.

In New York—on the same day that Dillinger eluded police in Wisconsin—a child with a toy hoe scraped up some mud in Central Park, and for this heinous offense the mother and child were forced to spend an entire day in court and in jail. The sun was shining outdoors, but the majesty of the law must be upheld, and so the 2-year-old child was soundly spanked to keep him quiet in the courtroom. Justice—if that's what it is called—must not be outraged!

Here is a perfect illustration of why the police and the courts in the United States are held in low public esteem. Politicians, police and judiciary play games of dropping-the-handkerchief with bandits, thugs, racketeers and plug-uglies. Then they turn around and persecute women and children who cannot defend themselves. Let it never be said that they quail before a woman or child! They have their duty to perform! If they cannot protect citizens, at least they can harry and annoy them.—Christian Science Monitor.

Food Market Advice

By ANN PAGE

THIS is almost certainly the busiest week in the whole year for the housewife. Three meals a day—last minute shopping, wrapping and mailing, and forerunning preparation for Christmas dinner and perhaps a party or two fill every minute.

Ample, wholesome meals may be quickly prepared and are a good means of getting ready to enjoy the holiday feast. The attractive prices at which various steak cuts are being offered give beef an extra appeal and they cook quickly. A thick broiled porterhouse or sirloin is a totally different seeming dish from pan-broiled round steak or broiled chuck steak. When the week-end arrives a meat will be wanted for Sunday. Baked ham is in a class by itself and it has the additional advantage of being delicious cold or when combined into entrees and other dishes. Plaques of cold sliced ham and cold sliced turkey are perfect for informal entertaining. Roast beef, roast lamb or roast fresh ham are equally good Sunday dinner suggestions.

Since there are three fast days this week it will be easy to fill in the week's menus with some of the many appealing fish and seafood dishes which this week's market makes possible. Why not serve oysters at least once? Some people like an oyster stew, some fried or scalloped oysters, some creamed oysters in short cake or patty shells and some plain pan-fried oysters. Fish fillets are versatile and are equally at home pan-fried, fried in cream, in cheese sauce, in Spanish sauce with Hollandaise. If no other type of fish were available there would be no need to tire of this one.

To help Santa Claus fill Christmas stockings there are shaly red apples, juicy oranges, yellow bananas and loose skinned tangerines. To be sure fruits together with grapefruit, Emperor grapes and outa and possibly a spray topped pineapple will also make a gay fruit centerpiece for the table.

When you are serving fluffy white mashed potatoes, a colorful second vegetable helps to make your dinner service more appealing. The outstanding green vegetables available are spinach, broccoli, green beans and peas and Brussels sprouts. Carrots, rutabaga, turnips and winter squash come in shades of yellow and orange and beets offer a warm crimson. When you are serving sweet potatoes you can serve white vegetable such as cabbage, celery, onions and cauliflower. The whiteness of vegetables can be gotten around with the help of paprika, chopped parsley, or any of the colored sauces or by scalloping and browning in the oven.

At present tomatoes are relatively scarce and expensive. Lettuce is cheap so that you can serve your family hearts of lettuce with a dressing which combines chili sauce or ketchup with salad dressing and chopped olives for a pleasant change. Celery is fine in quality and plentiful. The relish dish of celery and olives deserves a more frequent place on your dinner table than Sundays and holidays but be never omitted on Christmas if one can judge by market demands.

Mushrooms are not important from the standpoint of nourishment but they add greatly to the flavor and attractiveness of many dishes. Sautéed whole or sliced they go perfectly with steak if you do not insist on onions, instead.

Have you noticed Thompson's house since they had it all painted up, Bert? It looks like a mansion.

Yes I saw it, Sue, and was afraid you'd bring up the subject.

AFRAID?—I don't understand—Why should you be afraid that I saw it, dear?

Oh I'm conscious of the shabbiness of our place, Sue, but I don't think this is the time for us to spend a lot of money.

You wouldn't say that, Bert, if you saw the startling sale at the store where Thompsons bought their paint. Think of it—the best paint made at 75c off on every gallon.

Well—let's go and see how much is required to paint our house—an estimate costs nothing.

And it will be worth more as an investment and we have done our bit to help restore employment and prosperity.

Now our home will look like a mansion too, dear.

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 6.

The Golden Text was, "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?" (Genesis 18:25).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Evil men understand not judgment; but they that seek the Lord understand all things. He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whose confession and forsaking them shall have mercy" (Proverbs 28:5, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Though error hides behind, a lie and excuses guilt, error cannot forever be concealed. . . . Let Truth uncover and destroy error in God's own way, and let human justice put down the divine. Sin will receive its full penalty, both for what it is and for what it does" (p. 512).

To Close Victory

Playing their third conference game of the season, the Antioch high school Indians defeated the Barrington Bronchos here Friday afternoon in a closely contested game, 8-7.

Miller and Madison, pitching for Antioch, clamped down in earnest, allowing the Bronchos but four hits in the entire game. The Indians netted twelve hits from Melners, Harrington's pitcher. Steffenberg proved Antioch's hardest hitter although Christensen scored more runs, all of them on walks.

Eighth Graders
Take Final Exams

Forty-seven eighth grade students from the rural schools in the vicinity of Antioch took their final examinations at the Antioch high school yesterday, according to W. C. Petty, County Superintendent of Schools.

Thirteen schools were represented, including Lake Villa with eleven pupils; West Newport, two; Channel Lake, eight; Grass Lake, four; Cedar Lake, two; Bean Hill, two; Hickory, two; and Grubb, one.

Mr. Petty began giving the final examinations last week with the Spaulding school, which dismissed last week after an eight-months term. Mundelein students took their examinations Tuesday, with commencement exercises to follow tomorrow. Examinations will be held at Round Lake today and at Grayslake tomorrow.

Nine of the schools will combine with Antioch Grade school in participation of the commencement exercises to be held at the high school gymnasium Friday evening, May 25. These schools are: Bean Hill, Hickory, Emmons, Grass Lake, Channel Lake, Oakland, Cedar Lake, West Newport and Grubb.

JUNIORS ADOPT
GRAND HOTEL AS
THEME FOR PROM

The night of the annual Junior-Senior Prom, May 19, will find the Seniors entertained in a manner worthy of the highest continental traditions, when they dine and dance in the famous "Grand Hotel."

The dinner will be served in the "Grill" located on the north corridor which will be transformed for the occasion by the use of flower boxes, and appropriate decorations. The south corridor will become a mezzanine floor, with a lobby through which the guests enter the ballroom. The lobby will include a hotel desk, clerk and bell boys.

The auditorium, skillfully arranged to resemble a real hotel ballroom, will be the scene of the dance. One of the features of the evening will be a floor show, the numbers of which have not been revealed.

Leading the prom will be the presidents of the Junior and Senior classes, Stuart Olsen and Clayton Bartlett and their partners. Decorations will be predominately green, with sweet peas and candles to brighten the scenes.

Wesleyan Quartette to Sing in Assembly

A half-hour of vocal music will be presented by the Illinois Wesleyan University male quartette from Bloomington, Ill., before the high school assembly Friday morning at 10 o'clock, May 18. The quartette makes an annual tour each spring of schools and churches throughout Illinois and has an outstanding repatation for fine performances and close harmonies.

The quartette will be accompanied by Wesleyan's business manager, Virgil Martin, who will interview prospective college students and their parents. The program is open to the general public.

G. S. Concert
Features Music
By All Grades

The spring Music Concert presented by the Grade School students at the High School auditorium Friday evening, May 4, was attended by a large audience.

The concert was representative of the work being accomplished in music at the grade school in preparing the students for participation in high school musical organizations. A number of years ago, harmony in grade school vocal groups was not attempted, but the Girls' Glee Club rendered several three-part songs at this concert.

The instrumental group numbers were particularly good, the Jazz band and regular band displaying a fine rhythm and tone. According to the director, Hans von Holwede, more than two-thirds of the entire student body have begun practice upon some instrument.

Feature numbers included a group of cowboy singers, accompanied by guitar players, and various solos, both vocal and instrumental, by the lower grade pupils. Several of the group arrangements presented by the lower grades were very clever.

Girls to Attend
Play Day at Leyden

Six girls from the high school, accompanied by Miss Cornelia Roberts, will attend the Conference Play Day which is being held at Leyden Saturday. The day will be spent in playing games and contests and meeting other students.

Each school is preparing to present some stunt or skill in a competitive program. The Antioch group will present the skit, "Bluebeard's Wives."

Those attending will be Enid Shoen, Dorothy Schold, Catherine Smith, Margaret Hughes, Grace Minto, and Louise Smith.

Antioch Students
Enter National Poppy
Poster Contest

Fourteen pupils of the Antioch Grade School will participate in a National Poppy Poster Contest which is being sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Adolf Pesat, Poppy Chairman. Several students from the high school are expected to enter, as well as a few entrants from rural schools of this vicinity.

Posters are to be 14 by 20 inches, using for a subject the veteran-made poppy. The posters will be displayed in the local store windows.

The contest closes May 15, at which time the prize-winning poster will be selected by a committee of judges. Judging will be made according to the following points: appeal, artistic ability, attention value, neatness and originality. The best poster in each class will be sent to department headquarters and entered in a national contest. The national organization is offering two prizes of $25 each for the best grade and high school poster.

An award of one dollar will be made by the local Auxiliary unit to the best poster made by a grade school pupil in the township.

Antioch students submitting posters will be: eighth grade, Charles Miller, George Hawkins, Buddy Anderson, Virgil Horton; seventh, Carolyn Phillips, Mildred Horan, Jimmy Mapletorpe, Windsor Dalgard; sixth grade, Luella Waters, Helen Horton, Lila Dalgard, Irene Chinn, Francis Paeini, Billy Techert. Only those students who desire to enter and to have their school work in condition are permitted to participate.

Administer Toxoid To G. S. Students

Final figures on the progress of the immunization program against diphtheria sponsored by the Antioch P. T. A. were announced this week by Ralph E. Clabaugh. Those receiving the Schick test to determine immunity totaled 69, of which number about half proved to be immune. In all, 61 pupils, including a number of students who had been inoculated at some previous time, were listed as immune, although the total number actually immune would probably run higher, as a number who were neither Schick tested or inoculated doubtless have developed a natural immunity.

Seventy-four pupils were given the first inoculation of toxoid last Friday. The second and last injection will be made during the last week of school. Thus, about two-thirds of the entire student body is immune or preparing to become immune to the menace of diphtheria. The Schick test will be applied next fall to those inoculated this spring.

WOMEN'S PAGE

Paint Must Suit Size And Type Of The Dwelling

Neighboring Houses and Yard Also Influence Choice of Color

To a certain extent a house is like a woman. It looks better in some colors than others. There is no denying that a color scheme which is alluring and appropriate will add vastly to the charm of a house. A poor color scheme may not be able to ruin a pleasing design, but it can certainly detract a great deal from it. To some extent the color will decide itself on the basis of house type, house size, and house setting.

For a colonial dwelling we see white most frequently; yet if our house is of this type and we wish a change we may reflect that many a lovely colonial house is given a soft yellow, as in the old days, we can indulge ourselves in a silvery gray capturing the spirit, thereby of the old, weathered wood.

For homes that have for their inspiration the architecture of southern Europe, brilliant colorings are possible—if we wish them. And of course an English cottage brings to mind richly hued brown timbers and neutral shades of plaster.

Then there is the size of house to consider. Anyone who has studied colors knows that certain tones have a tendency to make an object appear larger, while other tones take away from its size.

Small houses call for such shades as light buff, white, yellow, ivory, or cream, pearl gray and light green. For the larger house, deeper greens and grays and reds and browns and certain shades of buff are good. And of course, if one has a large home and definitely proper white to anything else, a clever use of trim can be employed to keep the structure from appearing elephantine.

Again where we distinctly prefer a dark shade of paint on a house one can employ a light trim to check any tendency toward the gloomy or formidable.

The colors of the houses in the immediate vicinity must be taken into account when one is painting his home. It is almost a necessity to give these houses consideration. If we don't wish our own house to clash too violently with the nearest neighbors, and have it suffer consequent damage by unpleasant contrast. Even though a house is fairly good sized, if it is surrounded by trees it should be painted a fairly light shade. If it is painted a dark color the shadows from the trees will break up its light and it will become obscured by its surroundings.

Did You Ever Try These Recipes? Do, Please

Cherry Pie.
Pastry for two crusts.
3 cups cherries pitted
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
½ tablespoons cornstarch.
Line pie pan with crust. Build up edges instead of cutting off surplus, pinch it up collar-like around the entire pie pan. Sift a tablespoon of flour or bread crumbs over the bottom of the pie. Add prepared cherries and sprinkle with sugar, cornstarch and flour mixed. Put on scroll decorated top crust. Pinch collared bottom crust and top crust together. Flatten edge down then around pie pan with a fork and fasten a strip of cotton wrung out of cold water tightly around the edge to hold crust in place. Bake in a hot oven 20 minutes, then moderate, oven 25 minutes. Serve hot or cold.
Variations: Use blueberries, using 2 tablespoons orange juice or tart jelly. Elderberries need 3 tablespoons of lemon juice added. Blackberries may need more or less sugar.

Italian Spaghetti
For six or seven people, cook one package spaghetti for 15 minutes in salted water. Drain, put in baking dish, buttered, a sprinkle of dry bread crumbs, then a layer of spaghetti. Cover it with scallion, pooled and cut-up tomatoes, dot these with butter and sprinkle with pepper, salt and chopped green pepper. Put in another layer of spaghetti, sprinkle with a little minced onion, then tomato, butter, pepper and salt. No peppers this time. Cover with buttered crumbs mixed with grated cheese and bake for 50 minutes in moderate oven.

Berry Pie Recipes for Summer Tables

There's nothing like berry pies for summer popularity. Try these recipes:

Strawberry Pie
1 baked pie shell
8 macaroons, crushed
1 quart of strawberries, hulled and mashed.
1 cup sugar
Plain Pastry for 1 pie.
1½ cups pastry flour
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
1 egg water.
Sift flour and salt. Rub in shortening with a fork or two knives, working mixture until it looks like meal. Add just enough ice water to make mixture stick together. Turn out on a floured board. Pat very lightly into shape and roll to ½ inch thickness. Fold over in three layers and roll again to fit pie plate. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees). For a pastry shell cover an inverted pie pan, prick the pastry all over with a fork, and invert another pie pan over it to prevent blistering.

Filling
Line the bottom of a baked pie shell with macaroons. Stand fresh berries, whole, all over the bottom of the shell and around the sides. Crush one cup of berries, add one cup of sugar and cook until of thick jam consistency. Allow to cool and pour over the prepared shell and berries. Chill all together. Serve with whipped cream.

Variations: use any berries. Omit macaroon crumbs and mix fresh sweetened berries with whipped cream.

Chicken Baked in Brown Gravy
Clean and cut up the chicken, which can be an old fowl. Wash, drain and wipe with a clean towel. Put in large baking pan, cover with cold water and add two teaspoons salt, one small diced onion and pepper to suit the taste. Bring slowly to the boil in the oven, then thicken by mixing four tablespoons flour with a cup of cold water. Stir until smooth before adding to gravy, then stir gravy until smooth. Continue cooking until chicken is browned on both sides.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ALAN PAGE

DELICIOUS as is canned pineapple, most of us welcome the fresh pineapple when it arrives for its brief spring season. For best flavor it should be very ripe. The other spring fruits, rhubarb and strawberries, combine flavors with it and with each other most satisfactorily. Bananas, too, are good mixers.

The spring picnic season has arrived and it calls for shelves well-stocked with canned and packaged foods and a refrigerator never empty of butter, eggs, salad materials and dressings.

The selection of available vegetables at low or medium cost is large—from asparagus, beets and carrots through the cabbage family to string beans, peas, asparagus and artichokes. Variety is the thing—so enjoy them all.

Here are three menus for your Sunday dinner:

Low Cost Dinner
Baked Breast of Veal
Mashed Potatoes
Spinach
Bread and Butter
Apple Pie
Tea or Coffee
Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Kidney Roast of Veal
Browned Potatoes
Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Strawberry Ice Cream
Coffee
Milk

Very Special Dinner
Celery, Radishes, Scallops
Chicken Fricassee with Dumplings
New Asparagus
Lettuce
Russian Dressing
Rolls and Butter
Banana Cream Pie
Coffee
Milk

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Eggs or any food which has eggs included in the recipe should be cooked slowly below the boiling point. Cooking eggs at a high temperature toughens the whites, makes them less palatable and harder to digest. Even when frying eggs, it is quite all right to serve them firm if they are cooked slowly.

To prevent small rugs from slipping on waxed floors, saw a few rubber fruit jar rings on the wrong side of the rugs. These help the rug to remain stationary and are easy to remove when cleaning.

To remove grease spots from wall paper, make a paste of talcum powder and gasoline, spread on the spots and allow to remain all day before brushing off.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

The Tomato

What article of food has enjoyed a more phenomenal rise to popularity than the tomato? And from all accounts it is a most desirous serving ascendency.

By all means encourage it, both in your own diet and for the children.

Consider these values. The tomato is a rich source of vitamins—A, B, and C.

It is economical and available all the year. Like the orange, its reaction in the body is alkaline, and so it tends to correct acid conditions. In fact, physicians are finding many uses for the tomato in special diets. For some persons it acts as a roughage and therefore laxative.

Tomato juice and stewed tomatoes in a mason jar are excellent additions to the school lunch box. Moreover, tomato juice and milk are wholly compatible; that is, they can be taken together at the same meal. And fortunately most children like the tomato, for it lends itself well to many pleasing and tasty dishes.

The first line against disease in the daily morning inspection, says Dr. Ireland in his next article.

Wearing of Poppies Reaches 15th Year

Auxiliary Has Large Part in Promoting Sale for Vets' Relief

On their way to work Saturday morning, May 26th, the people of Antioch will be offered little red poppies to wear in memory of the World War dead. They will also be offered an opportunity to contribute to the welfare of the war's living victims. All day Saturday members of the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the street with boxes of the poppies and with coin boxes to receive contributions in exchange for the memorial flowers.

The custom of wearing poppies in memory of the war dead is fifteen years old this year, and generally observed throughout the English-speaking world. In the United States the women of the American Legion Auxiliary have developed it into a great national program for commemorating the services of those who died and for bringing aid to those who sacrificed health and strength in the nation's service.

Nearly ten million Americans wear The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary poppy each year on "Poppy Day," the Saturday before Memorial Day, and contribute nearly one million dollars for the relief of the war disabled, the widows and fatherless children. All of the poppies are made by disabled veterans, as the label on each poppy shows.

Early in the winter the making of the poppies which will be worn the following May begins in government hospitals and in special workrooms maintained by the Auxiliary throughout the country. Hands of disabled veterans, weary of idleness, are given employment shaping the little cloth flowers. Discouraged men whose spirits have sunk to despair from months and years of unemployment are given the reviving experience of again earning money, to the amount of one-half cent a poppy.

If all of you had the opportunity to visit the soldiers' and sailors' graves at Arlington, in Washington, D. C., you would learn that every day

GRAYSLAKE NOSES OUT GRADE SCHOOL TEAM BY TWO RUNS

In a close game with the Grayslake grade school the Antioch baseball team met a 7-5 defeat here Monday afternoon. Despite the tighter pitching of the Grayslake hurlers, who allowed Antioch but seven hits, the team was not able to cash in on as large a percentage of their hits as the Antioch lads. Miller and Wasko pitched for Antioch.

The next game scheduled is with Gurnee May 12.

Public Invited To Aid In Honoring Florence Nightingale

The veterans Administration Facility, North Chicago, Illinois, will observe Hospital Day Saturday, May 12th and will hold "open house" from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m., at which time the entire hospital will be open for inspection.

National Hospital Day is observed by civilian and government hospitals in commemoration of the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, founder of modern hospital nursing.

Visitors will be directed to the recreational auditorium where they will be received by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary, 8th District, Department of Illinois, who will serve tea. Guides will be available for a tour of the hospital.

The primary project of Hospital Day is to familiarize the general public with all of the activities within a hospital in order that they may be fully informed as to the service rendered the community. This is accomplished by throwing open the doors of the hospitals and all of their departments and giving full information on all details of hospital management.

The Veterans' Administration extends a cordial invitation to the public to visit their hospitals on National Hospital Day and it is hoped that as many as possible will visit the Facility at North Chicago.

It was voted to hold a public program next Wednesday, May 16. According to Miss Ayleen Wilson, president the Club has secured Mardon, the Magician, who will offer a high class of entertainment.

Mardon, a former 7-day Redpath Chautauque man, will present a program of three divisions, the first to feature magical performances, the second mindreading and the third, escape artistry.

A matinee for grade school and high school students will be held at 2:45 next Wednesday afternoon at the high school; admission 10 cents. An 8 o'clock program for adults will be held in the evening at the high school; admission 25 cents.

Managed currency would be great if more people had some to manage.
